Whether you sing, play in a band, create DJ magic, or give awe-inspiring speeches – you want to share your passion. But to be heard by the world, you need to record it, right? The LINE 2 USB Interface Cable connects your keyboard, drum machine or other stereo line-level signal directly to music's present and future by plugging straight into your computer. Now when inspiration strikes, you can capture the moment in all its dazzling brilliance – and share it with everyone! It's also perfect for recording from the stereo output of an audio mixer – so your live performances can be captured, and relived again and again.

Music to High-Tech Connection

The incredible LINE 2 USB is the very essence of simplicity. Connect the stereo ¼" jacks straight into your mixer, keyboard, drum machine or other stereo line-level audio source and run the USB cable to your computer. It just doesn't get any easier than this!

Your Creative Space

LINE 2 USB's long cable (6.6' / 2 m) provides the ultimate in convenience for your creative space, keeping everything within easy reach – and your workstation neat and tidy.

Plug and Play

LINE 2 USB interfaces seamlessly with Windows* PC and Mac* operating systems and is ideal for use with low latency ASIO* drivers (such as ASIO4ALL*) for PC and the built-in Core Audio drivers for Mac. Step into the virtual world of recording software, amplifier and effect plug-ins and create stunning soundscapes – that would otherwise require the keys to one the world's top recording studios. LINE 2 USB works with virtually all popular 32-bit compatible recording software including Avid Pro Tools*, Ableton Live*, Steinberg Cubase*, etc., so you can record tracks directly into your favorite DAW – and mix and master to your heart's content.

Total Recording Flexibility

LINE 2 USB supports both 44.1 kHz and 48 kHz sample rates for maximum flexibility, so whether you are recording the next global smash hit or a heart-pounding video soundtrack, it's all you need.
